BIOGRAPHY

At the start of the 1990's Mike Endicott and some others were made aware that the Christian Gospel is a message of wholeness and healing in Christ Jesus. They were also made aware of the lack of connection being made between the Gospel message of healing and the very many people who were searching for healing in their own lives. Mike opened his house for prayer and saw results. They found a meeting place in Pontnewydd, Wales. This ministry was approved by Archbishop Rowan Williams. The Order of Jacob's Well was established. The work is expanding and is one of making connections between a deep sense of dis-ease in the community that is common to both inside the churches and outside and the Gospel of reconciliation, healing and integration in Christ. Mike was ordained to the permanent diaconate in 1997. This was on the basis of recognition of his existing ministry. The order is answerable to Archbishop Rowan.
